

Local telephone numbers should be portable regardless who the carrier may be. This is a consumer protection issue as number portability encourages competition.